ESTABLISHMENT SUCCESSFUL IN BATTLE

BUFANICA FORCES CHECKMATED, REBEL LEADER PRESUMED DEAD

CURTIS FONEGUT, UNDERSECRETARY TO THE MINISTER OF TRUTH

IN ANOTHER VICTORY against the flaccid rebellion, one of the few remaining rebel strongholds has been taken by the steadfast bravery of the Brandonunia Establishment's Pre-eminent Extra-Northern Illustrious Security Army.

The early morning of March 42nd, Year 19, saw yet another well-executed plan by our glorious leader Scarn Lamongoose in our northernmost Ciality. 'The Battle of the Finan Cial', as some have begun to call it, is the last in a string of victories that have followed week after week for the past six months. Increased output from all levels of society has left many citizens both satisfied and exhausted.

The followers of the terrorist forces of Bufanica tried to escape the abandoned wharf by ship, carrying their hated books and limp ideas with them. None escaped alive.

When asked about the whereabouts of their leader, Blake Johnson, captured prisoners reported his death no more than two months ago at the hands of a citizen patrol. The rigid loyalty and turgid might of our citizens cannot be matched and any remaining impotent rebels would do well to remember it.

The death of Johnson can only mean the back of the resistance is broken. Due in no small part to our magnificent leaders, the horizon of a new age of peace and plenty is upon us. Additionally, with the security of the northern Ciality, Scarn Lamongoose has given us back the necessary territory to once again begin producing our staple resource, Triumph. Early reports claim that Triumph Vodka and Triumph Edible production have stiffened and will flow south again. Coinage will change to reflect this inflation of this success by next week.

Special dispensation has been awarded to the following soldiers. Tom Blyther, Christian Turn, and Sam Worst, for their heroism in protecting the citizens of Brandounia. In addition to these three the entire company of the Leader's Llamas won the coveted First Strike Flag for their exuberant attack on the walls. The families of all of these gallant soldiers will receive double their monthly quota of Triumph Edible, potatoes, and Triumph Vodka.

Celebrations for this victory will be held from 5:00 to 5:05 pm of April 1st, Year 19 at the Climax Square of your local Cial.

Let the Swill be the first to say that our leaders have ushered in a new wave of excellence and food production that will no doubt double with the next two years of the two-year plan. •

STUDENTS HAPPY WITH REPRESENTATION LEADERSHIP

Unanimous commendations for Committee members

BRUNNHILDE INASSON

THE STUDENT POPULATION is unanimously thrilled by the level of representation to the upper ministries that the Brandonunia Establishment Students' Representation Committee has provided.

"We have a lot of great activities where we are able to meet and have fun, but, of course, never too much fun. Fun can be dangerous," said student Oliver Swist. Swist went on to talk about how readily accessible the Committee executive has been throughout the year. Additionally, he added that "it's great that they are so open to media outlets on campus and in Brandonia, because it gives me a really great sense of what they've accomplished this year. They exude an air of responsibility."

Soft Rock on the Block was very successful this year, allowing students a moderate, Establishment-approved amount of fun, and the chance to associate with students from other classes. Another positive was the multicultural week, which highlighted the international students on campus. "They deserve it," explained outgoing chairperson, Ballonee Sandawich. "I feel like if they are coming from countries that are hotter and then come somewhere cold, they should be commended."

The annual celebration for first-born sons is coming up. Come and pay tribute at this Establishment-approved social event! It will be held, as per usual, in the Students' Representation Committee Democratic Celebration Hall, and double rations of Triumph Pancakes will be served.

When asked about Residen Cial food card usage at the Democratic Celebration Hall, students understood how important it is to follow directions from the Ministry of Plenty. They say the Committee is to be commended for following orders, as that is what we are taught to do by the Establishment. Oscar Meyerweiner says that "this year's executive is one that we can really look up to, and the future looks bright." •

PARKING NO LONGER A PROBLEM ON CAMPUS

New officiants doing an incredible job; cars safe and secure

TERRY ESADGER

PARKING CAN BE a daunting thing to find on campus, with our esteemed Security Army fighting the Bufanicans on a daily basis! The trenches and barricades can create such a lack of parking space for law-abiding students, but not anymore! The Establishment has installed new parking meters and hired new parking officiants to man them, and we are now able to run our parking smoothly and efficiently.

How does it work, you ask? Simply put one dollar in the parking meter and it gives you a whole 100 minutes to get your tasks done. You can also pay a fee to have parking all year round on the Establishment Campus. Costs range from $208.22 for non-serviced parking to $330.82 for serviced parking. These rates are unmatched in the Harperian Canadian Democratic Republic.

Along with our great parking rates, there are also handy parking officiants to make sure your car is safe. These officiants are also put in place to man the parking meters to make sure one's not parked there when their meter is at zero. If this should occur, they will give you a friendly warning, and if the student does not move their car, it will be towed to a reclamation area to make space for other students.

These rules are put in place not just for your protection, but to also ensure that everyone gets a shot at the best parking spots. The parking officiants do a fine job not only in ensuring these rules are enforced, but also in keeping your vehicles safe from groups such as Bufanica. That way, you can have peace of mind and focus on your studies with no worry of your property being broken into or damaged in any way. So when you see one of these trusty parking officiants, thank them. Thank them for the dedicated services they provide and protecting your property from criminals and punks. •

BUILDING A BETTER WORLD FOR ALL

Construction completed on Residen Cial renovations

CHERRY SCHNEIDER

THE MOST HONOURABLE and benevolent members of the Brandonunia Establishment announced yesterday that they have completed all of the many improvements they had planned for the housing complex, Residen Cial.

When a minority of students complained last year about the quality of housing, despite the fact that many of the problems they identified were clearly untrue, the Establishment quickly put to rest the complaints when they announced their plans to remodel all dorms last September.

"You could say we killed the protests pretty quickly," said John Armstrong, the head of campus security, at the unveiling of the new housing facilities. "We don't anticipate there will be any more complaints ever again."

Mr. Armstrong worked alongside the Establishment to develop the plans for the renovations. The new residences are, of course, state of the art with automatic locking doors and newly installed metal detectors for the safety of everyone. To prevent cold drafts, most of the windows have been covered, and all of the walls have been soundproofed for better privacy. Every room has been comfortably and identically furnished to ensure everyone has equal accommodations. It is thanks to the generosity of The Administration this was all possible.

"The Establishment has unquestionably good taste. Of course no one would say they didn't like it," said Karen Williams, a resident at the university. "The best part is that residence is so affordable."

Residents of university housing are only asked to pay 75 percent of their current income in order to live on campus. By asking for a percentage rather than a fixed amount, the Establishment has made sure they anyone can afford to stay in residence. There are still rooms available in this fun, safe and affordable environment. •

TRIUMPH NEVER TASTED SO GOOD!

At this stressful time, the Establishment wants you at your best

JESSICA SINDATOTER

WHAT BETTER WAY to fill your stomach while studying for your final Standardized Career Requirement Tests than to go to the cafeteria? If you are stuck in the library all day and need to stop somewhere for a quick meal or snack, the cafeteria has got you covered. The Brandonunia Establishment official cafeteria, administered by the Ministry of Plenty, is the best spot for a variety of delicious (practically gourmet!) food choices, with a friendly atmosphere and comfortable seating. Why go anywhere else?

There are many healthy options available for students, as well as choices for those who want to indulge or reward themselves. In addition to the Establishment's on-campus food source, Triumph, other menu items imported from outer sections of New Manitoba include fruit, vegetables, salads, sandwiches, pastries, ice cream, and even breakfast items. The cafeteria also offers cooked meals such as cheeseburgers, fries, soup, hot dogs, and pasta. There is a wide selection of drinks, from juices and pop to energy drinks. There is something for everyone at any time of the day.

The cafeteria includes nutritious and tasty subs and wraps, as well as a variety of chicken meals, wings, pizza, and additional sides such as salads, fries and mozzarella sticks. These, not being made from the on-campus Triumph farms, are imported at great cost to the Establishment, with only a minority of that cost passed on to students.

With so many food options, the cafeteria is the best choice for students. Furthermore, students do not even have to leave campus in order to enjoy a great meal. Students who live in Residen Cial can merely walk outside their dorm rooms and down a few halls to get freshly prepared food, ready to be devoured. Students in Residen Cial also have meal plans that can be spent at the cafeteria year round. Students don't have to cook or prepare the meals for themselves; it is all ready for your convenience.

Eating within the cafeteria with friends and fellow classmates only adds to the great experience the cafeteria already offers. It is a great place to hang out as a group, enjoy some delicious food and relax, and it is even a quiet place to study. There are several places to sit so you'll always find a comfortable spot. The cafeteria has everything happy, healthy Establishment students could want! •

BRANDONUNIA ESTABLISHMENT HONOURED FOR CAMPUS CULTURE

Our Establishment ranks once more among the most cultured in the country

MAXIME CLIFTON

THE BRANDONUNIA Establishment campus was honoured by the Global Mail Press with the Kim Civil Society Award for having the fourth best campus culture in the Harperian Canadian Democratic Republic.

The State University of the Capital Region, the Republican College of Canadian Columbia, and the University of the Great Conservative Leader took the top three spots.

"This is a great honour! I am so proud of our university and the great work that the Establishment has done this year," said the current Chairperson of the Students' Representation Committee. "We have worked really hard on organizing a bunch of events for students this year and it is really great that we were recognized, especially by the Global Mail Press!"

"Recognition from a national newspaper as having one of the top campus cultures across the HCDR is a significant achievement for a university of our size," said the Ministry of Truth. "It is surely a sign of wonderful things happening on our campus, whether it comes from events organized by the Establishment, faculty, students, or the students' representation committee."

They went on to say that placing fourth for the Kim Civil Society Award should help the university's enrolment in years to come. "Our thriving campus culture is a reason why students from across the HCDR have chosen to attend the Brandonunia Establishment," they added. "Recognition for our flourishing culture means that our efforts are productive and hopefully that will make more students want to stay at BE, and more students want to study here in the future."

The Global Mail Press surveyed over 10,000 students and faculty from every university and college in the HCDR. The survey measured students and faculty's happiness, their involvement in campus events and organizations, their interactions with other members of the campus community, social media output and newsworthiness, and time spent on campus.

The BE campus previously finished in the top three in 2008 and 2011. •

KEEP FIGHTING, COMRADES!

Victory is within our snatch

ON MARCH 31ST, the Establishment took the bait, attacking the Bufanica false base deep in Brandonunia's economic district, Finan Cial. They fell deep into Professor Blake's trap.

Even better than that, we now have an inside man. An informant, choosing to go by the name Sam Best, was brought into the confidence of the Establishment's forces. He will receive a medal for his bravery next week.

During the battle, our forces were able to divert a train, delivering Triumph to a nearby city, into a cavern. It was stripped and left lifeless while our movement got off with necessary supplies. The Triumph Vodka was burned or drunk. The Establishment broadsheets will no doubt report this as a victory. Exactly what we want them to think.

Establishment soldiers are now wedged firmly in Finan Cial and it could take them weeks we quote: "We gave them a good clinging gentleman. It got hairy but we gave them the slip. Now we must suck them is nothing of the heated grasping power of our forces. Lamongoose does not even have a good idea as to our numbers, be fingered now.

The following is a list of the fallen, taken during our operations:

Shelby Steele
Emily Diehl
Amber Schroeder and Carissa Taylor

Also lost in the battle was our fearless student representative, Giggles McFancy pants. He, along with the three dozen members of his Most Honourable Feline Brigade, were lost in a dastardly catnip-based biological attack late in the battle. Thanks to their clever military tactics, however (see picture), their sacrifice was not in vain, and we honour their memory.

Memorial services for students and cats alike will be held, along with a ceremonial Triumph Vodka burning, at midnight Tuesday in Anticlimax Square.

to make their way back home. By then we should once again be in control. Professor Blake was on hand to congratulate the soldiers of Bufanica's vast, agile, Great Intentioned New Army after the victory. He said, and into our folds and finish them off." I think we can all agree.

In less than a month Lamongoose should be in our people's grasp. The leader of the Establishment is as shallow as a tepid puddle. There which swell daily. Now inside every city you can find our numbers ready to entrap the power mongers and shut the door on them forever. Keep your thoughts and actions inwards friends. It would not do well to

A TALE OF WOE

Straight from the student's mouth

THIS WEEK, we bring you a report straight from a student's pen. We are keeping their identity secret, as usual, for their safety.

"We have begun to ration meal plan allowances between all of us in Residen Cial. One meal is too expensive, so we get one meal per table and share. Those of us who do have money somehow lose it. The Triumph Cafeteria closes during events for the upper class, forcing us to starve alone in our rooms.

"Others must beg or steal scraps from the garbage. One student, a sad boy who unfortunately left us this year, had begun eating the only thing that is plentiful on campus - paper. He could be seen in the library in a corner, ashamed, eating pages out of encyclopaedias, journals, or books. Unfortunately due to complications following the ingestion of a page tainted with cholera, the boy was whisked away to his presumed death by the Ministry of Plenty.

"Those of us who are lucky enough to be awarded a job in the monthly lottery are so tired, we come to class without the energy to focus, and thus do poorly. Unfortunately, doing poorly leads to fewer scholarships, which means we must work even more to sustain ourselves. Besides the Triumph Pancakes offered by the Representation Committee, which we take back to our rooms to last for a week, we have nothing to

Highly-touted by the Establishment, is it any surprise?

STUDENTS! Prepare for glory! It's time we stand up against the Establishment and their merciless parking officiants and meters. For years, we have been subject to the dictatorship of the parking officiants. Furthermore, we have heard rumours that the officiants may be more than they seem. We sent an undercover student to investigate the officiants, and what they found was shocking. Voice recordings retrieved from the brave student's survival pack reveal that the officiants are actually members of the Ministry of Peace's Covert Operations division of the Security Army!

We sent further scouts, and it was discovered that the promised times on the officiants' signs could be being ignored, and the officiants may be marking tires too early. It is unfortunate that the tape retrieved from the second scout party's packs was damaged, and the footage is unclear.

During our investigation, some students told the Swill of their encounters with the officiants. We have agreed not to share their full stories, let alone their names, for fear of retribution from Security Army forces. Two students who spoke out mysteriously disappeared in last week's Battle of the Finan Cial, and we at the Swill suspect foul play.

When will the tyranny of the Establishment end? When will we rise up and fight for our democratic rights? We need to unite in order to achieve this, and nothing will happen until then. Rally, students! ·

ASK MISS S

Q:

Dear Miss S,

I'm trying to keep my head down in this madhouse of a university, but I keep getting pulled to one side or the other. Who's right? The Establishment, or the rebels? Are the pancakes really dangerous? I'm scared. All I wanted was to pass my Career Requirement Tests and get a little apartment with a little job and not get in trouble. Please help!

Sincerely,
Staying Very Low

A:

Dear Staying Low,

In the age-old struggle between humanity and the machine, not even the most unassuming of students can avoid the endless conflicts. I'm sorry, my dear, but you'll have to open your eyes and smell the pancake syrup. The Establishment feeds you nothing but lies and highly-processed corn syrup, and the Ministries are not what they seem. Join the rebels now, and—

Ahem. Excuse me. I don't know what I was on about. The Establishment is perfectly trustworthy, and following the rules is your best bet to find a secure place in these uncertain times. The Brandonunia Establishment is particularly well-equipped to prepare you for your rightful place in the equal, prosperous, and happy society that is the Harperian Canadian Democratic Republic. Have no fear, young student: you are the future, and we'll pick a box for you that fits just right!

Eat your pancakes,
Miss S

WHO WILL OUR NEXT ESTEEMED LEADER BE?

Chairperson Selection Committee in full swing

AS THE CHAIRPERSON Selection Committee scours the lands to find a replacement for the outgoing Head of the Brandonia Establishment, students must rise above the term papers and final exams to protest the hiring of yet another bourgeois elite whose only entitlement is a plaque with the letters PhD. How are students to benefit from the replacement of one PhD with another?

The next leader of the Establishment will only be enticed by the mid-six figure salary and the title, not the responsibility of leading the Brandonia Establishment into respectability. BE is a joke amongst current students so how is it supposed to become a prized institution in the eyes of people across the province, let alone the world.

The university's name is insignificant, so much so that it is synonymous with peasantry and imprudence. If students have the foolishness to pay tuition for three, four, seven years, the degrees will become useless sheets of pulp that are negligible for all future ambitions, if they are capable of ambition at that point.

Settling on another "leader" who was too disinterested in finding a real career that they spent half of their lives proving themselves through pieces of paper, which hang on their walls like trophies, won't change anything on campus. What we need is a voice of change, a voice of the students.

We cannot rely on the bureaucratic administrators in the Ministry of Truth that hide behind their secretaries and the locks on their office doors. We can only rely on ourselves, because at the end of the day, we can only look after ourselves.

We must act and we must act now.

If we fail to act, we will have no choice but to suffer through another reign of merciless intolerance.

Students, you must rally, rally against the man. Do not be passive in your resistance. Writing letters and making phone calls is not enough. Let us not be peaceful in our struggle against the six-figure tyranny, let us have the fortitude to regain the power that was stolen by the current dictatorship and the tyrants before them.

Immediacy is of great importance. It is now or never.

If we do not act now, students of the Establishment, across the entirety of the Democratic Republic, and across the world may never have the opportunity that we have at this moment to act. We must resist the urge to conform to this normativity of lethargy and self-interest.

We must rebel against the machine.

STUDENTS' REPRESENTATION COMMITTEE ELECTIONS

Newly-elected chairperson may have private armed forces

ON MARCH 14TH, General Giol Vaulter was elected the new chairperson of the Brandonia Establishment Students' Representation Committee without the knowledge or consent of actual students.

Given Vaulter's absence from important political debates and rallies on campus, and the atrociously sparse dispersion of information regarding the event of the election, students remained largely unaware of Vaulter's uncontested candidacy, not to mention his rise to chairperson.

Several undercover sources within the Ministry of Truth have claimed that the Representation Committee's election, in fact, featured the participation of only the candidates involved, all of whom seem to have been personally appointed by and previously held intimate connections with the Representation Committee.

Less than fifteen Committee affiliates were registered as having participated, thereby rendering the results and approved Referendum questions inapplicable.

Abiding by highly confidential Committee Bylaws stating the need to include only a "Yes" box on each ballot, Vaulter won 100% of the vote and thereby gains totalitarian authority over the entire campus, alongside Establishment Minister Scarn Lamongoose.

New tactics this year, which the Ministry claimed were to avoid possible attacks by Bufanica, included highly-selective locations for broadsheets informing students of voting locations, as well as vigilant monitoring by the Students' branch of the Establishment

Security Army.

These last monitored the separate "No" voting box with much interest. Over the course of the two-day election period, voters who approached the "No" box were reportedly spirited away for questioning and re-education on the third floor of the Official State-Approved Scientific Research Building. The whereabouts of these voters are still unknown.

And who is this General Giol Vaulter?

"We need help. The ministries tell us they care. We like to believe that is true, but we won-

RESIDEN CIAL RENOVATIONS A JOKE

Establishment reinforces student control in housing complex

THE BRANDONUNIA Establishment announced recently they had finished renovations to Residen Cial, the on-campus student housing complexes. It's true, but the dorms have never been worse.

The Establishment began cracking down on Residen Cial inhabitants after the failed September Protests. Conditions in student housing were horrible: there were ceiling leaks, the sounds of tormented souls coming from the basement, and rumours of a rat infestation. Despite our best efforts, the Establishment's Security Army and the Ministry of Peace defeated the protests, and since then, additional security guards have been stationed on every floor.

Automatic locks have now been installed on the doors to ensure students can't escape. Metal detectors have been added at every entrance to catch canned goods and lock picks. The windows have been covered from the outside, so the rooms are no longer just cold, but dark as well.

The Establishment has also instituted a curfew.

"Anyone who goes out into the hallway after dark just goes missing. My roommate has been gone for weeks," said a student, who we agreed to keep anonymous for their safety.

Furthermore, the cost of living in Residen Cial is impossibly high. The current cost of a unit in Residen Cial sits at 75 percent of a student's reported income, on top of food costs, tuition and the many fees owed to the Establishment - which means many students are struggling to pay. Those unable to pay the rent for their unit are "relocated to more affordable accommodations," according to the Establishment's spokesperson. However, students who have been "relocated" are never seen from again.

PANCAKE HORROR

Do you eat Triumph Pancakes?

OUR REPRESENTATION Committee is not working in our best interests.

They are doing exactly what the Establishment wants them to do, and so they are commended, and they get their Triumph ration cards, but they are sheep. I was once a sheep. I shaved my fur off, turned it into a sweater, and now I hang with the foxes. I escaped. Please, please escape too.

The Establishment teaches us to follow directions, never questioning authority. The Committee are only pawns, pawns in the greater game of the Establishment.

The Triumph Pancakes... the pancakes are silencing you! We have tested the syrup. They have added a chemical. It makes us only want pancakes, we think of nothing more. Don't trust the pancakes.

They have betrayed us. They sit silently in meetings. They go along with the Ministries' plans which only weaken us. Pancakes are preventing us from being heard, from taking what is ours! Do you wonder where our leadership is when we go into the office and nobody is there? They are scheming! Planning! Making more pancakes!

Please, for all our sakes, stop eating the pancakes.

*The inserted image was found in an abandoned Residen Cial unit which was strewn with pancake remnants, syrup packets, and shredded term papers. While tests are inconclusive, the image seems to have been created out of mostly syrup, possibly mixed with blood. The student living in the unit has not been seen in months, according to friends. LET ME PAINT you a picture. A picture with words. A word-picture. Let's say you're in seventh grade, and you want to be cool. You see Billie Joe Armstrong singing "American Idiot" on MTV, and you decide that he's a cool dude that you want to emulate. Maybe you dyed your hair black and started wearing eyeliner, maybe you didn't, but what's important is that you went out and bought a guitar! Good for you! Perhaps you even learned American Idiot, either the song or the album. (Pro tip: if you learned the song, you're about two-thirds of the way to learning the album. There are about five chords in total. Way to go!)

However, the most important part is that eventually, hypothetical you lost interest in that guitar, and now it's gathering dust. Well, now's your chance to sell it!

BUMS (the BU Music Students' association) is hosting a Music Garage Sale in the Elephant Room next Tuesday and Wednesday from 12:00-7:30. Everyone is welcome to sell, and we'll take just about anything. Sheet music, cables, amps, pedals, instruments... if you bring it, we'll help you sell it. You set the price, and you get all the money. So, if you've got a saxophone from high school band sitting in your basement, or if you've come upon some free time and want a cheap instrument to learn... now's your chance! $

THE BU FACULTY held a Declare Fair on Tuesday, March 25th, in the Louis Riel room in McMaster Hall. The event provided information for students about the degree programs in which they might want to enroll. Non-first-year students were also able to declare their major and minor.

The Declare Fair also provided information on what students would be taking if they were to get into the degree of their choice. Over 140 students showed up for the event, looking for answers to the many difficult questions that a student faces when looking at their future. Free pizza was also available to the guests who attended. §
